PUBLIC MEETINGS.

NEW-YORK EAST METHODIST EPISCOPAL CONFERENCE.

The Conference met pursuant to adjournment at 81 o'clock in the Cherry-street Methodist Episcopal Church. The proceedings were opened with prayer by the Rev. Henry CAMP.

The Rev. Dr. Froy stated that it having been asserted yesterday on the floor of the Conference that the Methodist Discipline of 1784 did not use the language incorporated in the report of the Committee on Slavery, he produced a copy of the Discipline of 1784, and read extracts from the book, which seemed to be entirely new to many of the members. The language of 1784 is even stronger than that used in the report of the Committee; indeed, it seems from the records of that day that Methodist preachers were the most devoted friends of liberty, and bitterly hostile to Slavery in all its forms and aspects.

The Rev. Mr. Lova, who has taken a prominent stand against Slavery in the Philadelphia Conference, and is the author of a work entitled "Pictures of "Slavery in the Methodist Church," was introduced at dwarmly welcomed by many members of the Conference.

"Slavery in the Methodist Church," was introduced and warmly welcomed by many members of the Conference.

After the transaction of routine business of no public interest, the second resolution of the report of the Committee on Slavery was taken up:

Received, That it is the daty of our Church, as a unit, to educate her membership to the high standard of these her primitive doctrines; and, to this end, its her duty to include them gradently, but firmly, through her organs, whether press or pulpit.

The Rev. R. M. HATTIELD of New-York moved the adoption of the resolution. It had been charged that, in discussing these and kindred questions, he was more excited than usual, and sometimes wickedly so. He disclaimed all intention to do wrong, or to injure the feelings of any brother in the Church. He felt interested in the subject of Slavery, and whenever he spike or read of it, he necessarily became excited, and feit it to be his duty to warmly speak and act in this matter. He thought that the report did not quite come up to the spirit of the Church's sentiment. It was not quite strong enough to suit him, but he would go for it heart and soul. He contended that slaveholding anywhere was wicked; it was a sin to will slaves under any circumstances. It was the duty of the Church to educate her people up to the tracstandard of Anti-Slavery sentiment. He considered that the Conference were bound to do that on account of the precent position of the Church in relation to the subject, as regarded the action of the General as well as of the Annual Conferences. One of the General Conferences had passed a resolution to the effect that the testimony of a tegro should not be taken against a white member of the Church, and to choke down the agitation of Slavery.

Dr. Banca denied that assertion, and stated that he could prove it a falsehood. The matter referred to was in the pastoral address, which he wrote himself. The clause was recommending to the churches to refrain from the discussion of the subject among their congregati

Mr. HATFIELD contended that the intention of the

and other communications to these Headquarters. Morthly refrain from the discussion of the question, and it was no use quibbling about it. Some time since one of the members of the Philadelphia Conference (the Rev. Mr. Lorg) published a book, in which he stated the position of the church on the Sisvery question. Hardly had the book been published, when he was cited by the Bishop to appear before the next Conference and answer the charge of sedition. The official organ of the church on the charges far and wide, to the detriment of the raputation of the brother. When the Conference and fully refuted the charges. The Conference exonerated him from the charges. The Conference exonerated him from the charges. In a speaking of the published the charges, In a speaking of the Philadelphia Conference, Mr. Haffeld dital from Mr. Lorge work, in which it was stated that there were eight nundred members of the Conference in Delaware eight nundred members of the Conference in Delaware bear the language of the Discipline upon the salved, and who, perhaps, would have to separate from the Church; yet, it was nevertheless true has there was an Anti Slavery feeling contantly growing and becoming more and more powerful. Wherever our Methodism goes on the borders, it carries with it the spirit of freedom, and though its progress might be slow, it would surely be felt.

It was moved and carried that the Rev. Mr. Long of Philadelphia, who had been alluded to in the remarks of members, be permitted to address the Conference.

of his life, and then, when he was perhaps broken dever-from hard work, turning him upon the world to take care of himself. And this made no provision for his wife and children. The father might be free, and the children be consigned to Slavery. He contended that there was a spirit in the Philadelphia Conference ca-tirely adverse to Anti-Slavery principles.

The Conference adjourned to Monday, without tak-ing any action upon the resolution.
